DAIL EIREANN DEADLOCKED OVER TREATY; DE VALERA COMPLICATES THE SITUATION

Saw Ten Or Twelve Soldiers Hanged

WASHINGTON, D. C., January 5.—(By the Associated Press)—Further testimony relating to the hanging of American soldiers at Is-Sur-Tille, France, was presented today to the senate committee investigating charges by Senator Watson, Democrat, Georgia, that soldiers had been executed without trial.

Hertford L. Cadenhead, of Greenville, Miss., a former service man, declared he had witnessed "ten or twelve" executions at Is-Sur-Tille while engaged in transporting German prisoners by truck in the vicinity of that place.

War department records previously submitted to the committee showed that two soldiers were hanged at Is-Sur-Tille after conviction by general court martial and gave the total executions in the A. E. F. as eleven, all after formal trial before military courts.

Cadenhead did not know whether any of the men he saw hanged had been sent to their death without trial.

SLAYS MAN IN KANSAS CITY STOCK EXCHANGE

KANSAS CITY, MO., January 5.—(By the Associated Press)—Harry Bruener, of Des Moines, Iowa, a horse buyer, was shot and killed, and Adolph Drabos, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and W. B. Hall, Kansas City, were wounded when, according to witnesses, Frank Thompson, a stock raiser of Olathe, Kansas, opened fire on Bruener in the crowded lobby of the livestock exchange here today.

Drabos and Hall, railroad livestock agents, were bystanders and each was struck by one bullet. Drabos was wounded in one leg and Hall in the abdomen.

At police headquarters, it was stated Thompson admitted the shooting, but declined to say why it had taken place. Bruener was employed by a local commission concern and was engaged in trading on several livestock markets.

Bonus Checks To Be Mailed February 1st

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 5.—Soldiers' bonus application blanks will be mailed to various military organizations Saturday, it was announced by Director Williams today. The 300,000 blanks now are being wrapped preparatory to mailing, he stated.

Director Williams also stated that it is expected the first checks will be mailed about February 1. An additional clerical force of approximately 25 or more will be added soon to handle the work, Director Williams said.

BANK HEAD KILLED, OTHERS SHOT BY BANDIT

CHICAGO, January 5.—(By the Associated Press)—John Soffel, president of the Maywood State Bank, was shot and killed, and Louis Sweeney, chief of police of the suburb, and Arthur Benson, a bank messenger, were wounded when five bandits robbed them of a $12,000 pay roll for the Maywood plant of the American Can Company.

The bandits did not give the banker and his two guards a chance to hold up their hands. They ordered the payroll car to stop, and as it came to a halt opened fire, killing Soffel (corrected) almost instantly.

Chief Sweeney was shot under the right arm and Benson in the side. The latter's injuries are serious. The entire robbery occupied less than three minutes. The robbers drove away with the money, heading toward Chicago.

Chief Sweeney said he was shot as the bank messenger guided the automobile to a stop and that Benson was the second to fall. Mr. Soffel stood up and attempted to draw his revolver when he was shot dead.

Sweeney, despite his wound, ran to the bank two blocks away and turned in the alarm. Chicago police dispatched three rifle squads and placed guards on all roads from Maywood. The suburb is 11 miles west of the loop.

Witnesses of the hold-up obtained the license number of the bandits' automobile, but police say the tag was issued to the owner of a different make of car, who lives near Rutland, Ill.

Coal Miners Say Their Families Are Starving And Appeal To Harding For Aid

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—(By Associated Press)—West Virginia coal miners who say their families are starving have appealed directly to President Harding for government aid. Letters the miners have sent to the president are contradictory of the statement issued by Governor Morgan, of West Virginia, that there is no starvation among the miners' families.

The letter to the president says: "At the meeting of our local union located at Marfork, W. Va., the miners instructed us to appeal to you for financial aid to support their wives and babies. The men have worked about three months this year. Why the mines are not running we are unable to say.

"The majority, or practically all of these men, who number about 200, are in a destitute condition, some not even having a meal ahead nor the means of obtaining such. The only hope we have to ward off intense suffering is by appealing to our national government for aid through you."

Another letter was sent to the president by two local unions at Babcock, W. Va., following a mass meeting of the two unions, reports the same condition among their members.

Sold Left Over Liquor To Guests

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., January 5.—(By the Associated Press)—The admission of Vincent Frazeretti, cafe waiter, to a United States commissioner, that he saved the liquor left on the cafe tables by New Year's guests, and sold it to other guests at fifty cents a drink, gave prohibition officers a new situation to consider today. He was bound over to the district court on a charge of violating the Volstead act.

Frazeretti said he mixed the liquor together in the same bottle and as a result accidentally hit on cocktail combinations which he said brought a brisk demand.

Torpedo Wrecks Greek Destroyer; Fifty Killed

ATHENS, Jan. 5.—(By the A. P.)—Fifty bodies have been recovered from the Greek torpedo boat destroyer, Leon, anchored in the harbor of Piraeus, which was wrecked yesterday by an explosion of a torpedo. The explosion damaged nearby warships and caused houses ashore to collapse, killing a number of the inhabitants.

Lady Mary Cambridge, above, will be a bridesmaid at the wedding of Princess Mary and Viscount Lascelles. So will Lady Mary Cambridge, her sister. Lady Mary is called one of the most beautiful women in England.

SECRECY MARKS FUNERAL OF SENATOR BOIES PENROSE; CEMETERY UNDER GUARD

PHILADELPHIA, PA., January 5.—(By the Associated Press)—The funeral of Senator Boies Penrose was held this morning. The same great secrecy that surrounded the making of arrangements for the funeral, was maintained until the body of the political leader was lowered into the brick-lined grave in South Laurel Hill cemetery. No information was forthcoming whether there were any religious services at the house or at the cemetery. Newspaper reporters were not admitted to the burial ground.

"Strictly Private"

The fact that the body of the senator would be buried today became known late yesterday when the bureau of vital statistics issued a permit for interment for January 5 or thereafter. The immediate family of Senator Penrose, who was a bachelor, consists of three brothers. No information was given out regarding the funeral beyond the brief obituary notice that the funeral would be "strictly private."

Newspapers that regarded the burial of the United States senator who had figured so largely in the political history of the country as an important piece of news set a watch on practically the same plan as death watches are set on prominent persons who are believed to be dying.

A report that Senator Penrose's father was buried years ago at midnight in order to avoid undue publicity, made the vigil of reporters almost an all-night affair.

About 7:30 a. m. today, the three brothers, Charles B. Richard and Spencer, arrived at the Spruce street home.

Hated Pomp, Ceremony

Questions had been asked why the family desired secrecy in the burial of the senator and the answer of close political friends was that Penrose hated pomp and ceremony and that it probably was his wish that he be buried with as simple ceremony and with as little commotion as possible.

It is said to be a tradition in the Penrose family, which is one of the oldest in the city, that all funerals of members be strictly private.

Thus was enacted the final scene in the career of a man who could have had one of the largest funerals in the history of the city. Political leaders from every county in the state came to Philadelphia within the last few days to do honor to the dead chief.

Score Made Homeless By Storm

TULSA, OKLA., January 5.—(By the Associated Press)—With at least a score of families homeless, and several persons injured, several towns in this district were recovering today from a storm which yesterday swept through northeastern Oklahoma and reached into southeastern Kansas and southwestern Missouri.

Severe damage was reported in Miami, Commerce, McAlester, Turley, Picher, Muskogee and other Oklahoma towns. In Kansas the storm centered around Galena and Baxter Springs, Joplin, Missouri, also was hit. Communication in many places was entirely disorganized and the extent of the damage could not be estimated accurately. No one is known, however, to have been killed or fatally injured.

Italy Agrees To Accept Plan Prohibiting Attack Of Subs On Merchant Ships

WASHINGTON, D. C., January 5.—(By the Associated Press)—Italy has decided to accept the second Root resolution prohibiting attacks by submarines on merchant ships, provided the French delegation does the same. It was said in authoritative Italian circles. This decision will make it possible to hold a session of the full naval committee today.

WASHINGTON, D. C., January 5.—(By the Associated Press)—A meeting of the five powers naval committee of the arms conference was called for this afternoon. It was considered that both the sub-committee resolutions proposals and the draft of the naval treaty would be presented for approval to this meeting.

WASHINGTON, D. C., January 5.—(By the Associated Press)—The agreement for an increase of Chinese tariff rates to be an effective five per cent, was adopted today by the nine conference powers sitting as a committee on Far Eastern questions.

All of the eight powers approved the program for increasing Chinese revenues and the Chinese delegation accepted the report submitted by Senator Underwood, chairman of the sub-committee.

The Far Eastern committee also adopted resolutions providing for eventual withdrawal of foreign troops from China. Upon the request of China, the resolutions provide the ministers at Peking of the eight powers will meet with a committee of three Chinese to discuss the troop withdrawal question.

Approval by all the powers having membership in the committee of the proposed rules regulating use of submarines was forecast prior to the meeting following the announcement that the Italian delegation had decided today to give its approval.

Mrs. Daugherty Undergoes Operation

BALTIMORE, MD., January 5.—(By the Associated Press)—The condition of Mrs. Harry M. Daugherty, wife of the attorney general, who underwent an operation at Johns Hopkins Hospital yesterday, was reported "very satisfactory" this morning. She was said to have had a good night.

Persons in close touch with the case said that she rallied quickly from yesterday's operation and this fact, together with the improvement reported today, encouraged their hopes for an early recovery.

Mrs. Daugherty has been at the hospital the greater part of the time during the last three months.

ATTITUDE OF IRISH CHIEF PUZZLING FACTIONS

DUBLIN, January 5.—(By the Associated Press)—The Dail Eireann, after holding a brief morning and afternoon session today without making further progress in consideration of the Anglo-Irish treaty, adjourned late this afternoon until tomorrow morning, when it will meet in private session to hear the report of the unofficial committee which is trying to find a basis upon which an agreement might be reached.

Situation Deadlocked

DUBLIN, January 5.—(By the Associated Press)—The situation on the Dail Eireann was still deadlocked when it reconvened shortly after 3:00 o'clock this afternoon, having met and immediately adjourned this morning. During the recess, it was learned, a joint meeting of leaders opposing and favoring the Anglo-Irish treaty held a meeting and canvassed various possibilities for reaching an agreement, but without avail.

DeValera Complicates Proposals

One member of the Dail said shortly after the adjournment that an effort would be made to reach an agreement on the plan proposed the other day by Michael Collins, that the opponents of the treaty should abstain from voting and permit the treaty to pass.

Seek To Restore Harmony

It was urged by proponents of this plan that harmony could thus be secured, and the opponents of the treaty, if they liked, could appeal to the electorate by means of a plebiscite.

DeValera's attitude, it was said, would determine whether an agreement could be reached between the opposing factions.

It was indicated that if the opponents of the treaty decided to make an effort to introduce DeValera's alternative proposals as an amendment to the ratification motion an effort would be made to limit debate.

Says The Treaty Will Be Defeated

LONDON, January 5.—(By the Associated Press)—J. J. Walsh, member of the Dail Eireann, is quoted in a Central News dispatch from Dublin today as saying in a statement: "I can definitely state that, as the position stands, the treaty will be defeated by at least two votes."

"I take full responsibility for making that statement," continued Walsh. "The decision will likely be taken late tonight and I feel that it is of the greatest importance and of vital interest for every constituency to realize the exact position."

The Central News correspondents say other deputies who were queried in regard to Walsh's statement said they would not attempt to contradict it, and that their manner confirmed the serious fears generally entertained.

Prominent opposition members are quoted as declaring their side was favored by the recess taken by the Dail this morning and that the net result had been at least one vote on the anti-treaty side.

Climatic Session of Debate

DUBLIN, Jan. 5.—(By the Associated Press)—The Dail Eireann reconvened today for what was expected to prove the climatic session of its long debate on the Irish peace treaty. There was intense excitement in the city.

Professor John McNeill, the speaker, faced the making of a vital ruling on the allowance of Eamon DeValera's appeal.

Boilermakers To Be Permitted To Go To Work

ST. LOUIS, MO., January 5.—(By the Associated Press)—Local union boilermakers on strike since 1915, will be permitted to return to work in the plants of three large boiler manufacturers who have been running open shops for the past six years, according to an announcement today, which said union officials had called off the strike of six years' duration.

The strike developed when the boilermakers' union applied for an increase in wages. No statement as to the future policy of the manufacturers was available today.

Pursues Assailant

CAIRO, Egypt, Jan. 5.—(By the Associated Press)—Badriddin Bey, controller of the Egyptian government crimes department, narrowly escaped assassination today at the hands of a youth believed to be a student. The controller was seriously wounded by a revolver shot. He returned the fire and pursued his assailant, but the latter escaped.

Badriddin Bey has been prominent in the prosecution of the "vengeance gang," an anti-British organization, seven of whose members were sentenced to death last year, but had their sentences commuted.

Little Miss Innocence saw no harm in promiscuous telephone flirtations with any pleasant masculine voice that her system of picking random telephone numbers brought on her wire. How could she dream that some of these men knew each other; knew she was flirting with all of them, and were framing up a plot to punish and cure her of her wild habit?

Of course these telephone flirtations led to secret meetings. And first thing she knew, reckless Teddy had more excitement in her young life than she knew how to manage. All's well that ends well, but the adventures she found at the ends of the telephone wires make a comedy you cannot afford to miss.

Better Times Ahead, Says Arthur Hamm

This community is going to see better times during 1922 than it did last year, according to Arthur L. Hamm, of the Citizens' Savings and Loan Association, acting as spokesman for all of the building, loan and savings institutions in Scioto county. Because of close contact with the working classes as well as with people of wealth, the views of building and loan officials have generally been accepted as a true barometer of business conditions. More home construction, easier money, more loans and an easing up of conditions in general are some of the things which building and loan men see in 1922 and which lead them to believe that the dark days of last summer are not to be repeated.

Prospective home builders will have less trouble obtaining loans this year than last as the public has turned from wildcat investments to institutions of recognized safety as a place for their savings, according to Mr. Hamm. He declared that the people of this community are realizing that if they expect to borrow money for building and loan companies for building and other worthy uses, they must support them by depositing their money with these institutions.

"If every person who contemplates building a home, even in the indefinite future, would start a savings account, he would be cutting down the cost of his future home from the day he started saving," said Mr. Hamm.

Planning For Special Train

Monarch Dr. J. F. Klump and Secretary J. M. Davis of the Grotto lodge of Huntington, were in the city Wednesday to inquire into plans made by local Grotto members for attending the big meeting to be held by Huntington Grotto Jan. 13.

It is expected that close to 150 will make the trip on a special train that will carry the Portsmouth members to the up-river city. It is necessary to have 125 members signed up for the trip before a special is assured.

The Huntington Grotto delegates here yesterday brought word that the new Grotto organization is planning big things for the Jan. 13 meeting when the local Grotto will put on the degree work. Local members are urged to sign their cards and return them at once to the secretary. Return cards should be in before Saturday, Jan. 7.

State Gave Away Property Years Ago

Wild lands in Scioto county, which the state of Ohio is considering buying for a forest preserve, public hunting grounds and state park, are the same lands which the state gave away not so many years ago. This interesting fact is brought to light in the report submitted to Governor Taylor by Harry C. Hunt, former city forger for the city of Cleveland, on his inspection of the land which the state proposes to buy.

This land was originally a part of the great Northwest Territory which George Washington surveyed. The part between the Scioto and Big Miami rivers was set aside by congress as a great military tract which was to be given out as homesteads for revolutionary soldiers. Mr. Hunt says in his report: "Today the state of Ohio is contemplating the purchase of this land which only a few years ago it gave away."

Gas Leak, Match, Slight Blaze

The Gallia street fire company responded to an alarm from Box 117 shortly before ten o'clock Wednesday night and made a run to the house at 1224 Robinson avenue to extinguish a blaze which resulted from a gas explosion caused when J. H. Adams struck a match to look for a gas leak. The family had just moved into the house. The flames were put out with only slight damage.

MRS. EGERLY GAINED WEIGHT

Also Strength and Perfect Health By Taking Vinol

ALL WORN OUT—NOW WELL

MRS. J. P. EGERLY
Boston, Mass.—I got into a very run-down condition, was nervous, could not sleep. I did not feel able to do my housework and had no ambition. I tried different remedies, and was treated by a physician, but did not seem to gain. One day I was in a store in Boston and was told about Vinol and decided to try it. It made me gain in strength and flesh, and I have been greatly benefited by its use, so now I am able to do all my work.—Mrs. J. P. Egerly, Boston, Mass.

The reason Vinol built Mrs. Egerly up after all other remedies had failed is because it contains the strength creating and tissue building properties of cod liver oil (without oil) aided by the blood making and vitalizing elements of iron and beef peptones. $1.00 a bottle guaranteed.—Advertisement.

Red Cross Report

The report of work done during the month of December shows that the local chapter of the Red Cross was very active during the last month of the year.

A total of 223 families were aided, 157 of them being families of ex-servicemen. Forty of these families had not previously received help from the Red Cross. There were 143 visits made to homes, and 158 made in half of families, making a total of 341 visits during the month. The amount of money expended in relief was $146.04. Clothing was furnished 23 families and 45 individuals.

Medical aid was furnished as follows: tonsil and adenoid operations 4, tracheotomy operations 3. Eight schools were inspected.

December was a good month for the work of the Junior Red Cross. There were nine Junior auxiliaries formed, making a total to date of 50. The Junior Red Cross in Scioto county now has a membership of 7022, 306 of the memberships being secured in this month.

23 production calls, and 2 committee calls were made. The chapter took care of seven compensation papers, and 45 affidavits.

CARDUI HELPED REGAIN STRENGTH

Alabama Lady Was Sick For Three Years, Suffering Pain, Nervous and Depressed—Read Her Own Story of Recovery.

Paint Rock, Ala.—Mrs. C. M. Stegall, of near here, recently related the following interesting account of her recovery: "I was in a weakened condition. I was sick three years in bed, suffering a great deal of pain, weak, nervous, depressed. I was so weak, I couldn't walk across the floor; just had to lay and my little ones do the work. I was almost dead. I tried everything I heard of, and a number of doctors. Still I didn't get any relief. I couldn't eat, and slept poorly. I believe if I had heard of and taken Cardui I would have died. I bought six bottles, after a neighbor told me what it did for her.

"I began to eat and sleep, began to gain my strength and am now well and strong. I haven't had any trouble since. I am sure can testify to the good that Cardui did me. I don't think there is a better tonic made and I believe it saved my life."

For over 40 years, thousands of women have used Cardui successfully, in the treatment of many womanly ailments.

If you suffer as these women did, take Cardui. It may help you, too. At all druggists. E 55

"Character Analysis" was the theme of a lecture delivered before a good crowd at the First Christian church Wednesday night by Edward L. Hawk, character analyst and business psychologist.

In this, the first of seven lectures for seven nights, except Sunday, the speaker explained the science he is teaching and proved to the audience that it was not a new theory, but a proven science, that business is learning to lean on more and more, every day. He began with two facts. First, man was put here on earth for the purpose of enjoying health, happiness and success.

Second, health, happiness and success depend on the mental attitude of the individual. He asserted that mental attitude is the result of autosuggestion, which is one of nature's greatest laws.

There is no admission charged for the lectures, which will be held every evening, except Sunday, for seven nights.

Many ambitious men and women live only half a life—and don't know it

No person whose nerves are continually irritated, whose appetite and digestion are disturbed, or who doesn't sleep well has more than half his normal chance for success in life. For weakness, debility, anemia and general lack of tone are a serious handicap to anybody.

Those who drink tea or coffee are often sufferers from these conditions. Tea and coffee contain caffeine, a substance which has a decided stimulant action on the nerves.

Each cup of strong coffee contains about as large a dose of caffeine as your doctor would ordinarily give to a very sick person.

You can readily see that the effect of giving this stimulant regularly to a well person might finally have a tendency to make him sick.

If you want to avoid a very common cause of irritation and enjoy restful sleep, good digestion, and the feeling of vigor and robust endurance that comes to healthy, normal people, quit tea and coffee, and drink Postum, instead. It is a rich, coffee-like cereal beverage—perfectly delicious!

Order Postum from your grocer today. Drink this fragrant, aromatic beverage and see how much better you'll feel—able to do more without becoming fatigued—as thousands have discovered for themselves.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in unsweetened form) in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes. Sold everywhere!

Fire Destroys Home

HAMDEN, Jan. 5.—The home of John McCann, located about two miles west of Hamden, was totally destroyed by fire with all its furnishings on Tuesday afternoon about one o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. McCann were absent from home at the time they with their three youngest children had left for Brantford, Pa. Sunday afternoon. The three older children were attending school, the two daughters at Sand Run school, while the son, James, is a high school student in Hamden. The origin of the fire is as yet unknown, but it is thought a coal stove in an upstairs room became overheated which started the flames. The son had been home at the noon hour for lunch and was returning to school when his attention was called to the fire.

NEW FINANCE CO. ORGANIZED HERE

Young and Young, prominent local real estate dealers with offices in the First National Bank building, announced Wednesday the organization of The People's Finance Company, a corporation formed for the purpose of loaning money on good collateral security. The new company, which will be incorporated at once for $50,000, will be located at 814 Gallia street next to the Columbia theatre. The building will be extensively remodelled into up-to-date offices.

The real estate business of Young and Young will also be conducted in the Gallia street building. The new business is expected to be in operation within thirty days. The incorporators are Arthur F. Young, Arthur H. Hammon, John F. Johnston, Frank A. Coburn and Miss Emma Johnston.

Arthur F. Young of the firm of Young and Young will be the manager of the company.

The new company will be under regular state inspection and money will be loaned under the legal rates in existence in Ohio.

The necessary papers for incorporation were mailed to Columbus yesterday.

Talk To Students

Wednesday, at the Wheelersburg high school, a vocational talk was given by Lloyd F. Gehres of the Western Republican Herald and a representative of the John C. Winston Publishing Company, manufacturers of school supplies, who talked on "The Value of Education, The Compulsory School Law and Its Value To State and Pupils."

Mr. Gehres was a visitor at the school yesterday and consented to give the weekly talk to the high school pupils.

Visits Her Sweetheart In Jail

She was so shy and demure and dressed in a snow white sweater that was tucked snugly around her throat. For almost thirty minutes she waited her turn in the sheriff's office last night. Not once did she look up. The shimmering beauty on her pretty face seemed to cast a glare over her every feature.

"Well, what can I do for you?" Sheriff Rieck asked the young girl.

"Why, I want to see John."

"Well, you will have to come to the jail between 12 and 2 p. m. at those visiting hours."

The girl's head drooped. Looking up she said:

"John is my sweetheart and I'd like awfully well to see him."

The sheriff melted and the girl who lives in New Boston was taken to the big door leading to the jail proper.

"Why, you will have to wait a minute until John gets some clothes on as he had already retired," Deputy Sheriff Richards said.

When John appeared he gruffly said, "Why hello, my fine is $25 and I need some tobacco. Can you fix it?"

"You bet I will," and the girl slipped out of the jail with a smile on her face. She had seen John and was now going to jail and get her sweetheart out of jail.

Only one of the many interesting instances that are enacted daily at the county jail.

Games At Sciotoville

Saturday night in the Sciotoville high school gym the S. H. S. boys and girls will play the Ashland high school boys and girls.

The S. H. S. girls and boys play at Wheelersburg Friday night but expect these games to put them in tip-top shape for the Saturday night battles with Ashland.

Ashland high girls known as the Kittens won the championship of Kentucky last season and have not lost a game this season. The team that won the championship is still playing this season.

The Ashland boys have a fast team and one that the Sciotoville boys will have to watch. Sciotoville boys under the direction of Coach Lowell Selby are now in the best of condition and form and their goal is to win the south-eastern Ohio high school basketball championship at the Ohio University tournament.

The S. H. S. boys will use stadium, Powell and Kinkor, forwards; Edwards Center, and Brown, Reinhardt and Winters guards Friday and Saturday nights.

COURT HOUSE

Big Sale of Dog Tags

Dog tags are selling more rapidly at the county auditor's office than toy balloons and hot tamales at the county fair, more than 500 of the devices having been disposed of this week, which brings the number sold up until Thursday noon to over the 1000 mark. More than 3500 tags were sold during 1921 which indicates there are still many untaken canines in the county a drive against which will be started soon as the dog catcher will probably be abroad next week with his nets and some prosecutions are expected to follow in the wake of the campaign.

Final Account Filed
The first and final account of Minnie Nisus, executrix of the estate of Nicholas Nisus, deceased, late of Pucua Vista, filed in probate court Thursday, shows receipts of $1220.30 all of which has been distributed.

Tax Paying Rush Continues
The tax collection continued with unabated fury at the county treasurer's office Thursday when a crowd of several hundred jammed the office and corridor throughout the day eager to square up their taxes for the half year due. The throng was equally as large as on the two preceding days and many waited patiently in line for hours before being able to reach one of the receiving windows. Nearly all patrons are observing the request of Treasurer Ruel to bring their old receipts and by doing so save time for all concerned as it greatly facilitates the handling of the big volume of business during the rush.

The collection is scheduled to close Saturday but it may be necessary to keep the books open for another week in order to give all an opportunity to come in and pay up.

Grand Jury to Report Friday
The members of the original grand jury venire drawn for the September term of court will be required to report to Judge Thomas for service Friday morning when the jury will start an investigation of the recent double murder near Sciotoville and any other matters which may be brought to their attention. A number of witnesses have been subpoenaed to appear before the jury to testify in connection with the double tragedy and there is little doubt but that the jury will return 2 indictments against Curtis Withrow for first degree murder for the killing of Hugh Nichols and the latter's wife, Leona Nichols.

It is not expected that it will require more than a few hours for the jury to complete its work and make a report to Judge Thomas.

Files Final Account
Dorrie M. Chabot, as executrix of the estate of James J. Case, deceased filed her first and final account in probate court Thursday, showing receipts of $1332.00 and the same amount disbursed.

Marriage Licenses

Prayer Meetings

At First Baptist

The First Baptist church, joyous and offers praise unto our Lord Jesus Christ for the way in which God has been wonderfully blessing the college prayer meetings held in over thirty different homes in the various parts of the city the last few days.

These meetings are being held in preparation for a great revival in which our prayer is that scores will come into a knowledge of the saving power of the Son of God.

Our Lord Jesus Christ, on the Mount of Olivet, just before ascending into heaven, told of this little company of disciples, that they should be His witnesses in Jerusalem and in all Judea, and in Samaria and unto the uttermost parts of the earth.

What a great responsibility to leave to such a small and weak company of eleven disciples, but their strength was made perfect in weakness. Our Lord told them that they would receive power after the Holy Ghost came upon them and for them to wait for the promise.

It is only when God's people will humble themselves and wait upon the Lord that they will receive power. God's people today are trying to do things in their own weak way and are unwilling to get down into their knees and wait for the Holy Spirit to reveal Himself, there would sweep over this city a Holy Spirit revival that would shake the very foundations of it and hundreds would be gathered into the fold.

Rate Cut On Farm Products

Essential

COLUMBUS, O., January 3.—(By the Associated Press.) State Commerce Director Phillips announced today that he is ready to present to the state public utilities commission evidence in support of the state's claim that reduction in rates on farm products is not only essential for the purpose of stimulating production, but also to bring such rates to a proportionate level with other commodities.

He said he expected the commission to begin hearings on the question of reduction of rates on farm products about the first of February.

Earns Free Trip To New York

J. P. Yancy has received word from the National Cash Register company of Dayton that he is in the 100 per cent class, which means his business the past year in the local territory exceeded the $75,000 mark.

It almost reached $100,000, and Mr. Yancy has established a mark for "the boys" to shoot at for sometime to come.

It means that he sold more cash registers than his firm estimated that he would, and of course the estimation was very liberal in nature.

As a result of his splendid business Mr. Yancy will get a free trip to New York City, where for a week the 100 Per Cent Club of the N. C. R. will be royally entertained.

C. Of C. Ballots Out Tomorrow

At the weekly meeting of the Chamber of Commerce directors held at the Mary Louise rooms today noon, the official results of the primary election for nomination of directors was given by Manager W. S. Harris, and the Board then approved the official list of fourteen nominees who will be voted upon by the membership, seven of the fourteen to be elected.

Manager Harris explained that the election ballots do not contain the names of some of the original nominees as some of them resigned and other nominees were substituted in the order of the number of votes they received. The official ballot to be sent out tomorrow is as follows:

L. W. Drayton, Roger Selby, Howard K. Moore, Saul H. Horchow, John T. Jerecek, Vallee Harold, B. H. Dillon, J. Arthur Bode, Hobt G. Bryan, Wm. X. Gableman, Adam Frick, Wm. M. Briggs, St. Straus and Albert Zoellner.

Ballots will be sent out tomorrow morning and they are to be marked and returned to the Chamber of Commerce office before 6 p. m. Jan. 11.

Burhoe Held To Grand Jury

Waiving examination when brought into municipal court Thursday under a charge of receiving stolen goods, Fred Burhoe, of Sciotoville, pal of Curtis Withrow, and his numbered victim, Hugh Nichols, was held for grand jury action under $1,500 bond by Judge McCull.

The only witnesses called during the preliminary hearing were Chief Joe Distel, Officers Braubach and Schroeder and Joseph T. Micklethwait.

The officers told of finding a number of various articles at the Burhoe home, which was later identified by Mr. Micklethwait as having been stolen from the summer camp belonging to the Micklethwait Improvement Company, situated on the Little Scioto river, five miles from Sciotoville, last November. Chief Distel testified that both Burhoe and his wife claimed that the stolen articles were brought to their home by Nichols and disclaimed all knowledge that the goods had been stolen.

Mrs. Burhoe and Mrs. Curtis Withrow were both present in court, but neither was called to the witness stand. The accused was represented by Attorney T. C. Beatty.

TURNS TO NATIONAL PROBLEMS

By DAVID LAWRENCE
WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—The emphasis has turned again from international to national questions—or rather from external to internal matters.

President Harding has started the New Year with his mind fixed on straightening out as far as possible the economic situation which confronts his administration in the hope that the next few months will provide some cure which will help the Republicans retain control of congress in the fall elections. Although the cabinet spent the greater part of Tuesday's session discussing the part American should play in the world economic conference being talked about in Europe, the policy in the minds of all, no matter how divergent the suggestions made, was that the United States should not assume the leadership or take the initiative but should examine carefully any proposals made to her by foreign countries.

Meanwhile the calling of a new agricultural conference by Secretary Wallace, the consideration of a new tariff act which will give the president plenty of discretion to set rates as conditions change, pressure to get power from congress to arrange for a refunding of the federal war debts, and the unique situation which has arisen from the death of Senator Fessenden have brought about a general situation which for the moment far overshadows the economic conference.

Mr. Harding, whose hopes were high at the outset because he believed other nations were as disinterested as America, because he thought other peoples were as zealous about world peace as Americans, now comes reluctantly to the conclusion that in place of Germany other obstructionists have arisen in world affairs and that the arms conference has done well to achieve what it has. He refuses to look upon the conference as a failure though his disappointment over the French refusal to permit an agreement on submarines is undisguised and pointed.

France for a long time to come will feel the effects of her attitude at the Washington conference.

Within two or three weeks the conference will have passed into history. In keeping with his policy from the beginning, Mr. Harding has let Secretary Hughes wrestle with the international questions, and is now concentrating more than ever on the internal situation.

When it became apparent that Senator McCumber of North Dakota was next in line to Senator Penrose as chairman of the all-important finance committee, there were no loud cheers from the White House. Much has been written from Washington about the meaning of Mr. McCumber's ascendancy. It has been described as the transfer of political power from the east to the west—the triumph of the agricultural bloc. But the significance of Mr. McCumber's sudden leap into the most powerful place in the senate is broader than that for the North Dakota senator is not owned body and soul by the agricultural bloc.

He is not one of its prime movers, although he has gone along with that group on many questions in the senate. Mr. McCumber has a fight for reelection in North Dakota next autumn which has more of a relationship to a position on national matters than appears on the surface. In his day, Mr. McCumber has been a straight Republican, something of a "stand pat" man, and regular, and an intimate friend of President Taft's. Later he joined the Wilson cause on the league of nations and stood alone on the Republican side. His colleague in the senate, Mr. Gurnea, was defeated because he wasn't radical enough to suit the New-

Cattell Gives His Version

Clifford Cattell arrested Tuesday night after trouble with his wife at their home 410 Third street, says that the throwing of scalding water on his wife was her own fault and was the result of a scuffle during which he attempted to take the tea kettle away from her so she would not throw water on him. He denies that he deliberately threw water on his wife and says that it was all an accident as he did not want to harm her and was going away from the house at that time.

Cattell says he worked Tuesday at the B. and O. freight house and when he arrived home his wife asked him to deliver some Victrola records she had sold to her sister on Market street. He says he delivered them and returned in a short time and his wife quarreled with him and accused him of loafing. She then raised a row about the money received from the records (Chorus) and during the quarrel poured some water from the teakettle into a small pan and threw it on his left arm. He says he then decided to leave the house until she cooled down but when he reached the outside she was waiting on him with a ball bat in one hand and the teakettle in the other. He exhibits a bump on his head to show where she hit him, he says, and that when he tried to take the tea kettle from her the contents spilled out on her. Cattell says he is sorry as he would not harm a woman and hopes his wife will soon leave the hospital where she is receiving treatment for her burns. He says he would rather have had the burns himself for his children need the mother's care.

SOCIETY

Mrs. Emory Fanning, 2111 Grant street was hostess to members of the Hope Circle of Calvary Baptist church when they met in regular session last night. A musical program was one of the features of the evening, after which light refreshments were served by Mrs. Fanning and the assistant hostess, Mrs. Letitia Carroll.

Those present were: Mrs. Floyd Lawson and daughter Alice Marie, Mrs. Blaine Hambo and children, Genevieve and Lucila; Mrs. Lester Lacey, Mrs. Minnie Staley and children, Marie and Dorothy; Mrs. L. T. Grieson, Mrs. E. Veneer, Mrs. L. J. Brady, Mrs. Anna Caldwell and daughter Kathryn, Mrs. Letitia Carroll, Mrs. Luella Chapman, Mrs. Frank Craig, Mrs. Hedy Perry and children, Roy and Leon; Mrs. C. E. Meacham and daughter Margaret, Mrs. Eli Daum and daughter Lucy.

Mr. and Mrs. William Brandel entertained with an all day party Monday, their guests being the members of the Six Hand Card Club. The house was beautifully decorated for the occasion in the holiday colors of red and green, a richly decorated Christmas tree being the center of attraction. At noon an elegant turkey dinner was served at a prettily appointed table centered with a large bouquet of white chrysanthemums, which the club members presented to the hostess.

Places were marked for Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Mootor, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Glickner, Mr. and Mrs. James R. Distel, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Emmert, Mrs. Nettie Farwell and Mr. and Mrs. Brandel.

After dinner the members took hands for cards and after several rounds of 500 Mr. Adolph Glickner and James R. Distel were awarded handsome prizes for top scores. At six o'clock a delicious supper was served and the remainder of the evening was devoted to cards. At the close of the games Mr. and Mrs. Otto Emmert received the trophies for the highest scores. Before the guests departed for their homes a midnight lunch was served.

The names of Mrs. George Thornton and Miss Lucy Stauffer were omitted from the list of guests at the card party given by Mrs. Henry Hosman yesterday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. John Daniels have returned to Columbus after a visit with relatives in this city.

The Central W. T. U., which was to have met this evening at the home of Mrs. Charles Rowe on Seventh street, has been postponed until next Thursday evening on account of the Law Enforcement meeting this evening in the United Brethren church.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Geary and two sons, Eugene and Billie, 1204 Center street, have returned from a holiday visit with relatives in Cleveland, W. Va.

The Bethany Class of Franklin Avenue M. E. church will hold a monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. L. C. Clausen, 1827 Bain avenue, Friday evening.

The Misses Emma and Shara Geisler have returned after a most delightful visit to their sister, Mrs. Marie Geisler, and other relatives in Huntington, W. Va.

The members of the Woman's Club enjoyed an interesting meeting at the home of Mrs. E. L. Poffeberger, 503 Walnut street, yesterday afternoon. Rev. Hugh Evans of the Second Presbyterian church was present and gave an instructive talk on "Dressing Up Portsmouth." Mrs. Gilliland of the Bureau of Community Service emphasized the necessity of a medical inspector in the schools, in a short talk on "Community Work."

Miss Mary Griffin was unable to give her talk, owing to illness, and Miss Margaret Studler was also detained at home on account of illness. Miss Louise Jones rendered several delightful piano selections, while Miss Harriet Gilliland and Miss Katherine Ware gave two of their fancy dances in costume.

Announcement was made at the meeting that Congressman S. D. Fess of Yellow Springs, Ohio, will address the members of the club and their friends on Monday evening, January 23rd in the high school building.

Following the business session a social hour was enjoyed. Mrs. Poffeberger was chairman of the afternoon.

Following the business session a social hour was enjoyed. Mrs. Poffeberger was chairman of the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Corney Wells will entertain the members of the Pioneer Club Monday evening at their home on Grimes avenue. The members of the club are Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Poffeberger, Dr. and Mrs. J. G. Lucks, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. McCormick, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hopkins and Mr. and Mrs. Corney Jeffords.

Dr. and Mrs. Ward Ventress have returned to their home in Chicago after a two weeks' visit with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Klingman of Fourth street.

Miss Florence Schofield Young has returned from a holiday visit in New York City and has resumed her classes in dancing at the Winter Garden.

Seventy-five girls of the Girls' Community club, gathered at the club supper Tuesday night at the Community clubroom on Chillicothe street. The girls had a hilarious time, celebrating the return of their old leader, Miss Mary Griffin, from her vacation spot in Tennessee.

A joyful business meeting was held immediately after the supper, as different from the dreary business of a business meeting, in a spirit to give a game of chess. The girls decided to hold Sunday afternoon tea every Sunday and a club supper once a month.

Misses Virginia McMahon, Dorothy Nutter and Dorothy Mayo were appointed as receiving hostesses for the February club supper, and Misses Agnes Seidel, Angela Switalski and Margaret Winters were appointed as entertainment committees.

Ellyne Johnston and Nina Compton were elected hostesses for next Sunday afternoon's tea. The third member's name to be announced later. Miss Griffin delighted the girls by telling them she would have Foster Kratoch to form a Girls' Community Club Chorus, and lead the club in singing.

The girls also voted to organize a club basketball team and a club volleyball team to meet Rarden and other neighboring teams.

Members of Judge Blair's Bible Class will hold their regular meeting Monday evening, January 9th, at the Home for Aged Women. A fine musical program will be rendered in connection with the meeting and all members are urged to be present. The hostesses for the occasion will be Mrs. E. C. Tucker, chairman, Mrs. Byron Schreiber, Mrs. W. J. Stevens, Mrs. W. L. Tracy, Mrs. George Thistle, Mrs. Amanda Weaver, Mrs. George Watkins, Mrs. A. C. Williams and Mrs. Edward Donalds.

There will be a prayer meeting tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Preston, 615 Fourth street. This is one of the various meetings being held throughout the city in connection with the meetings being held at the First Baptist church. Mrs. James A. Maxwell will be the leader and everybody is invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion W. Prosch, 303 Third street, are at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Prosch, 1215 Seaneath street, on account of the illness of Mrs. Henry Prosch.

Miss Bula Spauldine celebrated her twelfth birthday anniversary at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Sparks, of 553 Fifth street. At a late hour refreshments were served to the following: Ruth and Hazel Robertson, Ruth Homans, Ruth Merz, Mildred Ingles, Katherine Peltz, Margaret Dixon, Dorothy Taylor, Helen Hughes, Katherine Glick, Katherine George, Walter Wilson, Myrtle and Emma Smith, Mrs. Alice Jarrell, Mr. L. F. Smith and Mrs. J. T. Robertson, Ralph Mayer, Curtis Smith, William Sparks, Junior Hannibal, Loren Holly, James Ingles, Ralph Scott, Harry Peters, Lloyd Kornard, Carl Norman, and George Bartlett, Raymond Robertson.

Mr. Harry Smith and son, Curtis, have returned from a week's visit with his sister, Mrs. Clara Shade, and brother, Edith Smith, of Lechman, Ohio.

Miss Lolita Brock has returned to her home in Columbus after spending the holidays with Miss Myrtle and Emma Smith of Eleventh street, and friends in Sciotoville.

The members of the Woman's Club enjoyed an interesting meeting at the home of Mrs. E. L. Poffeberger, 503 Walnut street, yesterday afternoon. Rev. Hugh Evans of the Second Presbyterian church was present and gave an instructive talk on "Dressing Up Portsmouth." Mrs. Gilliland of the Bureau of Community Service emphasized the necessity of a medical inspector in the schools, in a short talk on "Community Work."

Miss Mary Griffin was unable to give her talk, owing to illness, and Miss Margaret Studler was also detained at home on account of illness. Miss Louise Jones rendered several delightful piano selections, while Miss Harriet Gilliland and Miss Katherine Ware gave two of their fancy dances in costume.

Announcement was made at the meeting that Congressman S. D. Fess of Yellow Springs, Ohio, will address the members of the club and their friends on Monday evening, January 23rd in the high school building.

Following the business session a social hour was enjoyed. Mrs. Poffeberger was chairman of the afternoon.

The Misses Emma and Shara Geisler have returned after a most delightful visit to their sister, Mrs. Marie Geisler, and other relatives in Huntington, W. Va.

The Bethany Class of Franklin Avenue M. E. church will hold a monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. L. C. Clausen, 1827 Bain avenue, Friday evening.

VOELKER'S "IN THE HEART OF THE EAST END"

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Dolly—To settle an argument, please tell me this: If a husband is a good provider and objects to his wife getting work outside her home in a place like a factory or such place, could he by law, prevent her getting a job and going to work? MRS. H. A. J.

If your husband is a good provider, your place is at home taking care of him. That is what he married you for and if you did not want to take up the responsibilities of a wife, you should have remained single. Then, too, if you do not need the money you should stay at home and let some woman who needs work have your job.

Dear Dolly—I have been going with a boy about a year older than myself. I love this boy and he acts as though he loves me but when we go up to my girl friend's house there is a girl that lives across the street and as soon as she sees that my girl friend and I have followed her comes over and flirts with them. They just look over and smile at her. I think they do it to tease us but teasing doesn't go with me. I got mad at my friend the other night.

night and I told him to go home. He put on his hat and gloves and started, then I got sorry and told him to come back. He came but this girl just hangs around all the time. Would you advise us to tell her to go home? MABEL.

No, I wouldn't tell her to go home. If my friend would rather smile at her than he would at me, I'd let him have her. That's me, all over. Mabel, I wouldn't have a man I could not trust out of my sight or even when I was looking at him. However, if you want to keep him out of sight or "under cover" until you land him, why not have your girl friend bring her steady down to your house, then her neighbor won't have a chance to vamp your beau.

Dear Dolly I have come to you for advice. I am in love with a man who is engaged to another girl and will be married soon. I am with him often and he seems to care a lot for me. Now Dolly, do you think I should continue seeing him or not, or do you think he cares for the other girl?

ANNOUNCES GIRL.

I don't think you should go with him when you know he is engaged, and I don't think much of him for going with you when he has promised to wed another. Just imagine how cheap you will feel after he gets married. Gossips will probably say you tried to get him but he wouldn't have you, etc.

Dear Miss Wise—I have come to you for a little advice. I would like to know if the boys from West Virginia will get a bonus? I served in the army from West Virginia and want to know where I will have to go to hear about the bonus from that state.

THANK YOU.

The state of West Virginia did not vote to give the soldiers a bonus, so you are out of luck.

Dear Dolly—I am coming to you for advice as you have helped so many others. I am 25 years of age and going with a boy of only 20. I can go with older boys, but this one wants to marry me, and wants all of my time. My parents object to my going with this boy. What would you advise me to do about it?

BLUE EYES.

In the first place I would listen to the advice of my parents, they probably do not wish you to go with such a young boy because of the difference in your ages. It seems to me that if

WHEN HAIR THINS, FADES OR FALLS, USE "DANDERINE"

25 cents buys a bottle of "Danderine." Within ten minutes after the first application you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair. Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them, helping your hair to grow long, thick and luxuriant.

GIRLS! Girls! Don't let your hair stay lifeless, colorless, thin, scraggy. A single application of delightful Danderine will double the beauty and radiance of your hair and make it look twice as abundant—advertisement.

You are attractive enough for a boy of 20 to like you, there surely will be men of your own age for you to go with. This boy no doubt feels flattered that an older girl is willing to accept his attentions but you know that such love as he professes can only be what is known as "puppy love." You are old enough to think of settling down to a home of your own, and I think that you would be more happily settled if you would cultivate men of your own age, or several years your senior.

SOCIETY

For the pleasure of two out of town guests, Mrs. Walter Wilhide, Baltimore, Md., and Mrs. Norman McQueen, Buffalo, N. Y., Miss Mildred Reichard entertained with a charming afternoon party yesterday at her home, 718 Fourth street. Bridge and five hundred provided diversion for the guests during the afternoon.

An attractive color combination of orange and green was effectively carried out in the interior decorations. At five o'clock the hostess assisted by her mother, Mrs. Stanley Reichard, Mrs. Charles Wertz and Mrs. George Nagelsch, served a delicious luncheon. The ice was contained in small orange cups, while miniature green candles in holders bearing a 1922 calendar, were given as favors.

Guests of Miss Reichard for the afternoon were: Misses Grace Hughes, Ethel Lakeman, Dorothy Eck, Ruth Fitch, Florence Dabber, Mildred Purdum, Elizabeth Galkner, Miriam Neudorfer, Elizabeth Armstrong, Margaret Manning, Mary Butler.

Mrs. Wilhide and Mrs. McQueen, the guests of honor, Mrs. Lorin Cunningham, Mrs. Franklin Sage, Mrs. Robert Townsend, Mrs. Fred Klingman, Mrs. Ralph Skelton, Mrs. Harold Flood, Mrs. Arthur Skelton, Mrs. Richard Kendall, Mrs. Charles Ahrend, Mrs. Howard Gehres, Mrs. Harry W. Angust, Mrs. Clyde Fitch, Mrs. Gilbert Mitchell, Mrs. Paul Impey, Mrs. Walter Gims, Mrs. Charles Wertz and Mrs. George Nagelsch.

Among the college girls who left yesterday for their respective schools are Miss Dorothy Borden, who returned to Gonzaga College, Philadelphia; Miss Ruth Strick, who left for Oberlin College, Westerville; Miss Jane Chandler and Miss Thelma Riley to Ohio Wesleyan University, Delaware; Miss Helen and Lillian Matthews to Oberlin; Miss Katherine Helms to Hills Institute, Hollis, Virginia; Miss Rosemary Miller will leave Saturday for the Mary Baldwin School, Northampton, Mass.

Miss Ruth Hunter, assistant superintendent at Hempstead hospital, has left for Chicago, where she will take a post-graduate course in Cook county hospital. She is from New Boston and has been at the local hospital several years.

Mrs. Lucile Strayer and son, Maurice, will go to Chicago to visit Mrs. J. M. Wilcox. Mrs. Wilcox is a former college chum of Mrs. Strayer, and will be pleasantly remembered as Miss Margaret Cameron.

Adventures Of The Twins

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

There we were, up in the sky spelling "Use No Soap."

NANCY and Nick and Tuskus sat quite still while the Fairy Queen was hearing the troubles of all the kite people from the Land-of-Up-in-the-Air.

"Who is next?" she asked.

"Us," answered two box-kites, stepping forward.

"We," corrected the Queen. "Yes," nodded one of the kites. "But we're so nervous we forgot our grammar."

"Why, what is the trouble?" asked the Queen kindly. "What are you afraid of?"

"We—we don't want to be sent back. If you please," explained the kites.

"If you see, we spelled the trade."

"I haven't the least idea what you are talking about," declared the Fairy Queen. "Suppose you begin at the first and tell me all about it."

"Well," said one of the kites, "it was this way. As we are box-kites we go very high up into the air, and being strong, we can carry a great deal of weight, so Mr. Pettigrew thought of a plan to use us in advertising. Mr. Pettigrew is manager of the Snow Soap Company. So he got eleven of us and put an electric light in each one. As we all had different letters, at night when we were sent up into the sky with our lights burning, we spelled out the words 'Use Snow Soap.' I had an 'S' on me and my friend here had a 'N' so you can see. But one night our lights went out. There we were up in the sky, spelling 'Use No Soap,' and the children were tickled to pieces when they looked out of their windows at bedtime and saw us. Mr. Pettigrew was furious, so my friend and I broke away and came here. Please don't send us back. It wasn't our fault."

"I'll write a note to Mr. Pettigrew," said the Fairy Queen. "You need not be alarmed about returning to your friends."

There will be a rehearsal of the Bigelow choir this evening at 7:15 o'clock and a large attendance is desired. Plans will be made this evening for a choir dinner to be held in the near future and preparations will be made to give a vesper recital on a Sunday afternoon during this month.

Miss Thelma Workman of Young street and Miss Florence Atkinson of Vinton avenue have returned from a visit in Huntington, W. Va. They were accompanied home by Miss Junita King, Mildred Chapman and Messrs. Arthur Hinchins, Walter Hill, and Ray Messie. These young people were entertained at dinner by Miss Workman and Miss Atkinson, and later in the evening motored back to their home in Huntington after having spent a delightful day in this city.

CONFESSIONS OF A MOVIE STAR

CHAPTER LXIX — AM I BLIND? AM I DISFIGURED?

GAIREE, the beautiful, had not wanted to be urged from her branch by a wee shock from an electrically charged wire.

She had taken her own part in the scene very well indeed and of her own initiative.

Mademoiselle Elsa was responsible for the big cut's freedom to do as she pleased. Mademoiselle Elsa had been so sure of her part that she had neither dozed nor chafed her.

Gairee's pictures were magnificent. She had scolded and snarled at me as I played with her cub and then she had made one magnificent curve of her body through the atmosphere and had landed on me without waiting for her cue—or for my dummy to be shoved into position.

Dick was by my side as soon as Elsa. The cameras told a most exciting story but it had no place in the play.

"I came in" on the softest, cut in "the throat." My eyes were covered with wet bandages. My head ached and felt as large as a bag of flour. I ran my fingers over my hair, over my face.

A laundry bag has as attractive an outline as my profile. My entire head was encased in wrappings of white medicated cotton.

What the first aid of 50 intelligent persons could accomplish had been done for me. The phone wire which had been strung through the forest brought a country doctor from the nearest town.

He would stay with me until a certain famous specialist summoned by long distance should arrive.

"Don't tell Motherdear! Don't tell Motherdear!"

That was my only reply when anyone asked what could be done to make me comfortable.

I didn't know myself whether I was blind or not. I didn't know whether I was scared. I only realized that I was a little girl who was suffering a good deal and that I was alone among strangers.

And because I was alone, I must be very brave.

The specialist came, examined me, refused to make a positive decision.

My eyelids were swollen tight, and there were scratches across my forehead and cheek. He was very indefinite. Blood poisoning might develop. He felt sure the eyeballs were not injured. But he didn't wish to speak positively. "Etc! I made Mrs. Nandy tell me what he said."

He wanted to get me back to town as speedily as possible.

So Cissy put his new car to good use. It was a long trip home to Motherdear by auto, but easier for me than a railroad journey.

Mrs. Nandy went with me but I wouldn't let Motherdear break up the camp. The members of the company were always in need of their salaries. Much could be done without me. I didn't see why people discussed the advisability of staying.

Mrs. Nandy gave it away as Cissy speeded homeward.

"Such a pity that our last film had to be chopped like this," she said to Cissy.

"We'll finish it all right," he exclaimed cheerfully—then changed the subject.

So that was it! Trust little Polly Anderson to give a secret away.

Demaison had hesitated about keeping the company on location because there was a probability that the play was chopped short.

If I were scratched up—blinded—it never could be finished.

This morning's Irononian contained the following interesting account of the wedding of Miss Helen Laming and Phil Pratt:

"An announcement which will cause quite a bit of surprise and pleasure in this city is the marriage of Mr. Phil Pratt, local boy, connected with Baesman's Orchestra, to Miss Helen M. Laming, of Portsmouth, O., at the home of Reverend Townsend. The ceremony was performed Wednesday evening about four o'clock, with Mrs. Julius and Mrs. Fred Baesman as attendants for the young couple. The wedding was a quiet affair and the newlyweds spending the night in this city, will return to Portsmouth to live, and will reside at 615 Eighth street. Mr. Pratt is well known in this city, but for the past year has been playing the saxophone with the Baesman Orchestra, being the best player in this section. Miss Laming is one of Portsmouth's most charming and popular girls and Phil is to be complimented on his choice of a wife, she possessing all the attributes which are charming in young womanhood. She is the daughter of the night supervisor of the post-office at Portsmouth and claims a host of friends in that city. The wedding was announced at the Baesman dance at the K. of P. hall last evening, and after three rousing cheers for the young couple the affair was turned into a ball in honor of the occasion."

One of the most enjoyable of the holiday festivities was the watch party and birthday surprise given by Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Milam Saturday night, December 31, 1921, in honor of their daughter Nellie's seventeenth birthday. The decorative scheme was carried out in red and green, in token of the Christmas season. Many useful presents were presented to her by various friends. A delightful evening was spent in music and playing games, after which refreshments were served to the following: Mrs. Edith Ricker, Elmore Milam, Ruth Mann, Marie and Carmel Eckhart, Katherine and Gertrude Frowine, Fay Kent, Nellie Lyons and Nellie Milam; Messrs. Charles Frowine, Fritz Adams, Forest Poole, Conrad Craig, Lloyd Kent, Paul Brown, Artie Mann, Jacob Corriell, Bruce Walters, Mark Butcher, Gomer Moore and Randall Milam.

Miss Bernice Kimble returned to Wooster yesterday, to resume her studies after spending the holidays with her parents, Attorney and Mrs. B. F. Kimble, 1920 Thirteenth street. During her vacation Miss Kimble also made a tour with the college girls' glee club, of which she is a member.

Charles Maxwell, Columbus was a guest yesterday of his aunt, Mrs. J. A. Maxwell, 808 Second street.

Miss Vere Crawford was elected president of the Cloyer Club at the annual business meeting held Tuesday night with Misses Mae and Elizabeth Ricker, 557 Fifth street. Other officers chosen for the ensuing year were: Mrs. M. O. Shumway, vice president; Miss Jeanette Sifton, third member of the program committee, the president and vice president composing the other members.

Miss Edna Davis was elected secretary, while Miss Anna Dugan was re-elected treasurer. A social hour followed the business, during which daily refreshments were served.

Miss Mary Easter, a student at Miami University has returned to her studies after spending the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Easter, of Preakles. Miss Olga Easter has returned to Portsmouth after a week-end visit with her parents.

Mrs. W. W. Breese of New York City is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Breese of Eighth street.

The Holmes Club will meet Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Earl Cooke, 1516 Fifth street, with Mrs. C. C. Taylor as assistant hostess. The annual election of officers will be held at this session, and a full attendance is desired.

HALL BROS. Masonic Temple--Chillicothe Street at Fourth

BEGIN HERE TODAY

BILL Bronson and Virginia Tremont find themselves forest prisoners in Bill's cabin in the Clearwater of Canada. Bill was lured by Virginia to guide her in her search for her fiancé, Harold Lounsbury, who vanished in the Clearwater six years before. Her fiancé's uncle and a cook, Yagor, completed the party. Bill and Virginia were engulfed in the forest. The others, left on the opposite shore, deserted. Bill hopes to look also for the lost mine of his father, murdered by a partner.

GO ON WITH THE STORY

VIRGINIA found the days much happier than she had hoped. She liked the hours of solace talk in the evenings. Sometimes they would play through the records, and so well had Bill made his selections that she never tired of them. She had her housework hours, but not so many as she had expected. When time hung heavy on her hands she would take out one of the old magazines that Bill had brought up to read on the winter nights. She had abundant health. The experience seemed to build her up, rather than injure her. Her muscles developed, she breathed deep of the cold mountain air, and she had more energy than she could easily spend. She fought away the tendency to grow careless in dress or appearance. She kept her few clothes clean and mended. She dressed her hair as carefully as in her city home. Their cabin life was redeemed by their frequent excursions into the wild. The study of Nature was constantly more absorbing to the girl. In these excursions Virginia learned to use her pistol with remarkable accuracy. Her strength increased; she could follow wherever Bill led. They did not forget their graver business. Ever Virginia kept watch for a track that was not an animal track, a blaze on a tree not made by the teeth of porcupine or grizzly, a charred smoking rack over the ashes of fire. But as yet they had found no sign of human wayfarers other than themselves. Bill never ceased to search for his mine. He looked for blazes, too; for a sign of an old camp or a pile of washings beside a stream. When he found an open stream he would wash the gravel, and it seemed to him he combed the entire region between the two little tributaries of Grizzly River indicated on his map. But with the deepening snow search was ever more difficult. Unlike Virginia, he was almost ready to give up.

Every day winter strengthened its shackles. Even the rapids of the river had begun to freeze. But now the snowshoe frames were done, wrought from tough spruce, and the moose hide cut into thongs and stretched across to make the webs. For a few days Bill and Virginia had held high revels in celebration of their completion. Now they could go forth into the drifts again.

It did not mean, however, that the time was ripe for them to take their sled and mush into Bradleyburg. The snow was still too soft for long jaunts. Came a clear, icy night, and the Northern Lights were more vivid and beautiful than ever. Bill thought Virginia was watching their display; if he had known the real subject of her thoughts, he would not have come and stood in the doorway with her.

"We're not the only ones to see it," Virginia told him softly. "Somewhere I think—feel—that Harold is watching it, too. Somewhere over this snow."

Bill did not answer, and the girl turned to him in tremulous appeal. "Won't you find him for me, Bill?" she cried. "You are so strong, so capable—you can do anything, anything you try. Won't you find him and bring him back to me?"

"The man looked down at her, and his face was ashen."

USE SLOAN'S TO WARD OFF PAIN

LITTLE aches grow into big pains unless warded off by an application of Sloan's. Rheumatism, neuralgia, stiff joints, lame back won't fight long against Sloan's Liniment. For more than forty years Sloan's Liniment has helped thousands of a world over. You won't be an exception. It certainly does produce results. It penetrates without rubbing. Keep this old family friend always handy for instant use. Ask your neighbor. At all druggists—35c, 70c, $1.40.

Sloan's Liniment

It was a lean-to rather than a cabin. A fire smoldered in front. And his heart leaped with indescribable relief when he saw that neither of the two men that were squatted in the lean-to mouth was the stranger who had passed his camp six years before.

Bill had old acquaintance with the type of man that confronted him now. One of them was Joe Robinson—an Indian who had wintered in Bradleyburg a few years before.

His companion, Pote the Breed, a half-breed with a mixture of French, was a man unknown to Bill. There were certain laws among the northern men, as to trapping rights. Mostly they are unwritten; but their influence is felt clear beyond the Arctic Circle. These state quite clearly that when a man lays down a line of traps for a certain distance on each side of him the district is his, and no one shall poach on his preserves. And these Indians had lately been partners in an undertaking to clear the whole region of its furs.

They had no idea but that Bill had discovered their trap lines and had come to make trouble.

So they were considerably amazed at Bill's first question. "Did one of you make those tracks out there?" he asked.

"No," Joe grinned. "Our partner made it. Follow it down—pretty soon find another cabin."

Bill only had to turn to see the snowy roof of the cabin two hundred yards away down the glade. It was a new cabin, just erected, and smoke drifted faintly from its chimney.

Bill rapped on the door.

"Come along in," some one answered gruffly. Bill did not have to glance twice at the bearded face to know in whose presence he stood. Changed as he was, there was no chance for a mistake. This was Harold Lounsbury, the same man who had passed his camp years before the same lost lover that Virginia had come to find.

His lips were loose, his eyes nervous and bright, his hands did not hold quite steady. Here was one that the wilderness had crushed in its brutal grasp.

This did not mean that his health was wasted. His body was strong and trim; except for a suspicious network of red lines in his cheeks and a yellow tinge to the whites of his eyes, he would have seemed in superb physical condition.

The evidence lay rather in the expression of his face, and most of all in the surroundings in which he lived.

He was utterly unkempt and slovenly. His coarse beard covered his lips, his matted hair was dull with dirt, his skin was scarcely less dark than that of the Indians themselves. The nails on his hands were foul; the floor of the house was cluttered with rubbish and filth.

Yet looking through his degeneracy, his identity could not be mistaken. Here was the man Virginia had pierced the North to seek.

"Want do you want?" he asked. "You're Lounsbury, of course," Bill answered.

"Sure, I ask you again—what you want?" "You're here living on the Yaga. You came up here to trap my territory."

Lounsbury remembered his staunch allies—Pote and Joe. "And what if I did?"

"You knew I trapped here. You brought up Joe Robinson and a breed with you. You meant to clean up this winter—all the furs in the country."

Harold's face drew in a scowl. "And what are you going to do about it?" "The queer thing is—," and Bill spoke quietly, slowly, "I'm not going to do anything about it—now. I didn't come to see you about trapping. I came about Virginia Tremont."

"Virginia?" he cried. "My God, what do you know about her?"

All at once he looked, with an annoyance and anxiety that at first Bill could not understand, towards the door of the cabin.

An Indian squaw—for all her filth and untidiness a fair representative of her breed—pushed through the door and came stolidly inside.

Bill's face was stern as the gray cliffs of the Selkirk when he turned again to Harold. "Is that your woman?" he asked simply.

Harold shrugged. "One doesn't marry squaws," he replied. "I came to find Harold Lounsbury, a gentleman," Bill went on in the same strange, flat voice, "and I find—a squaw man."

Dr. Williams Better

Dr. Frank H. Williams, who is a patient in Mercy Hospital, is improving steadily, which will be good news to his many friends.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 15c and 50c.

Local Men Draw Fines

Portsmouth men giving the names of John Tracy and W. M. Jervis, arrested in company with a woman at New Boston Tuesday night, were fined by Mayor W. E. Newberry Wednesday.

The woman was dismissed Tuesday night and the men were allowed to go home for the night. Tracy, charged with drunkenness, disorderly conduct and resisting an officer, was fined a total of $23.80, including costs. He was fined $5 and costs each on the drunkenness and resisting an officer charge and $10 and costs for disorderly conduct. Jervis was fined $5 on a drunkenness charge and $10 on the disorderly charge. The trio claimed to be waiting for another woman when the officers took them in tow. A small bottle of moonshine was smashed on the paved street when the officers approached, but a half pint bottle with some moonshine in it was taken from one of the men. A moonshine charge was not pressed when the men arranged to plead guilty to minor charges.

Twenty Four Years Ago

A protracted meeting started at the United Brethren Church, and Rev. Mr. Chapman, presiding elder of the district, was here to assist in the meeting. Judge Milner convened the January term of court and after impaneling a grand jury called the civil docket. E. H. Clare was made foreman of the grand jury.

J. R. Smith, 25, and Anna E. King, 24, both of Otway, were granted a license to wed.

Bert Kaps left for Ada to take a course in electrical engineering in the Normal there.

Bailey Post G. A. R., installed new officers and Captain Cressel Milstead succeeded D. P. Pratt as commander. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Turner entertained New Year's Day in honor of their guest, Miss Florence Fletcher, of Marietta.

There was no merrier gathering than that assembled on New Year's evening at Miss Anna Yaege's home, 71 West Eighth street.

The Portsmouth Crying Club indulged in a show given at Manchester New Year's night made a decided hit. They showed to a crowded house and the performance was well received.

Andrew and Adam Gleim bought the Brighton Adair farm on Dogwood Ridge.

When the beams in the jar in John F. Stanley's window were counted, it was found that it contained 6,113 beans, and that the first prize was won by Mrs. Charles Rauch, who guessed the exact number. The next prize went to Miss Clara Nugent, on a guess of 6,107, and the third prize was won by Mrs. A. Moore, who guessed 6,123.

Toy Drow left for Chester, Pa., where he attended military school. Addison P. Minshall returned to Chillicothe, after a short visit with friends here.

Mr. Gleim Hurt

Adam Gleim, well known farmer, living above Wheelersburg, met with a painful accident Tuesday afternoon while helping his sons Henry and Adam Gleim with the work on the farm. Mr. Gleim was guiding a spreader and when it went over a rut in the barn yard he was struck in the lower part of the abdomen and painfully injured. His back was sprained and he is suffering severe pains. Dr. K. A. Reichelderfer is attending him, but it is not known yet whether he was injured internally. Mrs. Charles W. Sutton of 1520 Mount street is a daughter of Mr. Gleim.

No Bones Broken

DRINK HOT TEA FOR A BAD COLD

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of this Hamburg tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teaspoonful at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.—Advertisement.

GRAND JURY TO TAKE UP DOUBLE MURDER CASE FRIDAY

When the grand jury convenes at 9 o'clock Friday morning it will take up the double murder enacted near Sciotoville last Sunday night when Curtis M. Witherow shot and killed Hugh Nichols and his wife, Leona Nichols. Witherow, no doubt, will be indicted on two separate first degree murder charges. He was arraigned before Municipal Judge McCull Wednesday afternoon, the hearing taking place in Sheriff Rieker's office.

Realizes Enormity Of His Crime

Witherow seems to fully realize the enormity of his crime and broke down and wept bitterly when his wife, Mrs. L. F. Witherow, four of their oldest children and his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Witherow and brother Leslie of Huntington called on him yesterday. "I don't know what made me do it," Witherow said while talking to his relatives. He seemed remorseful and had very little to say. His wife assured him that she would stick to him to the last and this statement seemed to belittle up the self-confessed murderer. Instead of sitting around and chatting with other prisoners last night Witherow called for an extra blanket and retired very early. Before going to his bunk he kept his face buried in his hands most of the time and did not talk to any of the other prisoners. His curly red hair gleamed under the light and he presented a youthful appearance, despite the fact that he is 35 years old and the father of seven children. Witherow denied that he kept any guns around his home, but admitted that he was always armed.

The told officials that Nichols would have shot him if he knew he (Witherow) had come to his home armed and looking for trouble. Under Nichols' pillow was found a 48 calibre gun. He left it there when he answered a loud rap on the door, little dreaming that in the next few seconds his life would be snuffed out by a bullet he had frequently befriended and that his wife would be fatally wounded. Nichols was a man who was always regarded as being very quick on the trigger and as he had had no trouble with Witherow he did not go to the door armed. He probably thought some neighbor was calling for assistance of some kind.

There Wednesday. The funeral services were held from the home of Harrison Nichols, father of Hugh Nichols, and a life long resident of Greenup. The double funeral services were largely attended as both victims were well known in and around Greenup.

Chief Distel and Officers Schroeder and Branham visited the home of Fred Burhoe, where the double murder was enacted and discovered a still under one of the floors of the home. A complete copper stilling equipment was recovered, the officers say. It is of good size and no doubt much fiery fluid had been turned out in it. The officials say that Witherow had filled up on moonshine before the shooting and took a quart of it with him when he fled from the murder scene.

Officials discredit Witherow's story that he was not implicated in robberies pulled off by Nichols and Burhoe. They are investigating a report that he recently stopped a C. & O. N. train near his home and loaded a car of stolen goods. It is believed that these goods were stolen from this section and taken in trucks to the Burhoe and Witherow homes.

ASKS FOR NEW HEARING IN CHAMBLIN CASE

A petition in error in the case of Roy Chamblin, condemned murderer of Louise Doyle and John W. Newman, was filed in the Scioto County court of Appeals Thursday morning by his attorney, Theo. K. Funk.

Eleven reasons, all statutory, are advanced why the finding and judgment of the trial court should be set aside and a new hearing granted.

The case will probably come up for review when the Appellate court comes to Portsmouth during the week of Jan. 16, to conclude the hearing of several cases on the docket for the November term which were left unfinished at that time.

No Increase In Insurance Rates, Says Chief

According to information given out Thursday by Safety Director St. Straus and Fire Chief Leedom, Portsmouth will remain in the fifth class from an insurance standpoint and will not be placed in the sixth class by representatives of the Ohio Inspection Bureau.

This means that an additional increase of 5 percent on all branches of fire insurance will not have to be paid, which they say would have been compulsory had the city been placed in the sixth class.

Representatives of the Inspection Bureau are re-rating the city and this work will consume three or four weeks.

THE MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCKS
NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Further divergence of speculative sentiment was shown by the conflicting movement of leading issues at the opening of today's stock market. Passing of the General Motors' common dividend caused that stock to react fractionally to 8 1/2, a new low record. Other motor shares and subsidiaries were lower.
Stearns forfeited part of yesterday's gains and equipments and foreign oils closed. Baldwin and Mexican Petroleum reacting a point. United Fruit,
Union Bag, California Petroleum preferred and National Cloak and Suit pdf represented the constructive side of the market at gains of 1 to 2 1/2 points. Preliminary quotations for the more important foreign exchanges were lower. German marks showing special heaviness.

Alternate rallies and reactions occurred during the morning. Shorts were prompted to cover on the continued ease of money, call loans opening at 5 per cent, but dropping almost immediately to 4 1/2. Reports that progress was being made in the proposed merger of independent companies were accompanied by gains of 1 to 2 1/2 points in the steel group, notably Lackawanna
Vanadium, Republic and Gulf States.
Equipments, metals, tobacco and utilities also rose 1 to 3 points. Oils were disposed to strengthen, but lost ground before noon. Mexican Petroleum being subjected to pronounced pressure.

Liquidation and short selling in large volume were resumed in the stock market today. Numerous speculative issues registered extreme declines of 2 to 3 points. Sales approximately 900,000 shares.

The closing was weak. Liberty issues were strong, other domestic bonds showing mixed gains and losses.

TCHING ECZEMA
DRIED RIGHT UP WITH SULPHUR

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Menthol Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its gentle soothing properties, this sulphur preparation instantly brings ease from skin irritation, soothes and heals the eczema right up and leaves the skin clear and smooth.

It seldom fails to relieve the torment and disfigurement. Sufferers from skin trouble should get a little jar of Menthol Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like a cold cream.

TELLS DYSPETICS
WHAT TO EAT

Avoid Indigestion, Sour Acid Stomach, Heartburn, Gas On Stomach, Etc.

Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble, say medical authorities, are due to an excess of acid in the stomach. Chronic "acid stomach" is especially dangerous and sufferers should do either one of two things.

Either they can go on a limited and often disagreeable diet, avoiding food that disagrees with them, that irritate the stomach or they can eat as they please in reason and make it a practice to counteract the effect of the harmful acid and prevent the formation of gas, by the use of a little Eucalyptus.

There is probably no better, safer or more reliable stomach antacid than Eucalyptus. It has no direct action on the stomach and is not a digestant. It is a powerful antacid and neutralizes the excess acidity which may be present in the stomach and prevents the formation of gas, the cause of indigestion, heartburn, gas, etc.

Get a few ounces of Eucalyptus. It is a reliable digestant. It is a powerful antacid and neutralizes the excess acidity which may be present in the stomach and prevents the formation of gas, the cause of indigestion, heartburn, gas, etc.

TO DARKEN HAIR
APPLY SAGE TEA

Lock Your! Bring Back Its Natural Color, Gloss and Attractiveness

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, streaked and faded hair, beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easy way is to get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store, all ready for use. This is the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not stylish, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell because it does so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and after another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.—Advertisement.

NEW BOSTON
New Boston Council No. 288 Jr. O. E. M. will meet in regular session Friday Jan. 6, when the annual installation of officers will be held. Other important business is also to come up for transaction. A hot lunch will be served at the conclusion of the meeting. Every member is urged to be present.

The Young Peoples Class of the Immanuel Baptist church will meet this evening in their class room, for a social good time. All members are asked to be present.

Mrs. Jess Killeen of Gallia avenue and Mrs. John Palmer of Harrisville Pike, were the guests today of relatives in Ironton.

The W. O. W. will meet this evening in regular session in Davis hall on Gallia avenue. At this meeting there will be a public installation of officers. Everybody is invited.

Don't Neglect a Cold
Mothers, don't let colds get underway; at the first cough or sniffle rub Muterole on the throat and chest. Muterole is a pure, white ointment, made with oil of wintergreen. It draws out infection, relieves soreness, does all the work of a good old-fashioned mustard plaster in a gentler way, without the blister.

Keep a jar handy for all emergencies. It may prevent pneumonia in your home, or a case in just a few minutes! Size 25¢ and 50¢ in jars & tubes; hospital size $2.

GAME PROVES ALL SUPERMEN IN FOOTBALL ARE NOT ON THE COAST

(BY BILLY EVANS)

THE Washington and Jefferson-California game is over, and Coach Neale's eleven has proved that all the supermen in football are not on the Pacific Coast.

The game has also demonstrated that W. & J. has a better team than most of the critics gave it credit for, or else California wasn't as strong as the advance notices made us believe.

Washington and Jefferson was robbed of a victory because of one of the toughest breaks a football team could possibly get, the cutting of an off-side play, as a touchdown is scored.

Shortly after the game had started, a halfback broke for 40 yards for a touchdown. The score was not allowed because one of the officials ruled a W. & J. player was off-side. That score would have given the eastern eleven victory, had it been allowed.

All of which brings us to the real reason for this story. The life of a college football official is no longer a soft job. Once upon a time the officials accepted the rulings of the college without comment. Those were the happy days for the officials but they no longer exist.

Offside and holding plays are a question of judgment purely. They are similar to the ball and strike, or the out and safe decisions of the baseball umpire. The baseball official reaches a decision and gives it. Often he is the only person in the ball park who takes that view.

Often an important ruling goes a football official in bad. A ruling similar to the one that kept W. & J. from defeating California has caused many an excellent official to be scratched by the college so penalized.

Last fall I saw a famous eastern official render such a ruling. I talked to him in his dressing room after the game. The first thing he said to me was:

"That turned out to be a tough ruling when I called that player for holding. It was the worst bit of holding I have seen in many a game. Since I kept one of the teams from winning the game, that college will have no further use for me for a couple of years."

Football officials are agreed upon usually by the coaching teams. A ruling that beats a college out of an important game is certain to eliminate that official from working for that particular college for years.

This fact was brought out at the recent meeting of college football officials in New York. E. K. Hall, chairman of the Intercollegiate Football rules committee, made the following sensational statement:

"Football officials are intimidated by certain colleges and led to shut their eyes to infractions of the rules because they are warned that infractions of penalties would cause them to be barred from games played in by these institutions."

If the spirit of sportsmanship is dying out in the colleges, I wonder where one is going to look for it.

VOLLEY BALL

PORTSMOUTH LEAGUE Games This Week

Thursday: Ministers vs. Battery B at Moose hall, umpire L. E. Butler.

The Bankers slipped up to first place alongside of the Trinity Cubs last night, when they won from the United Brethren. The first game was in doubt throughout, but capped by the Bankers 21-15. The next also went to them 21-7. The third by all rules except that of the United Brethren. They completely outplayed their opponents, all the players doing splendidly, especially Schuck and Troch. Reinhardt started at serving making a run of seven, and up to the last game looked like theirs, but at the last minute the Bankers slipped over a couple and won out 21-19. Benny was the Bankers' star, doing great field work and making a serve of 9.

Bankers: McNamee, Baugher, Ketter, Jemmy, Vli, Erffelt.

United Brethren: Prosch, Schuck, Bruce, Smith, Reinhardt, Southworth.

PEERLESS LEAGUE Games This Week

Thursday: Selby Leaders vs. Christian Vets.

Friday: Selby Vets vs. Selby Cubs at Whitehouse hall, High School Faculty vs. Biscuits at high school.

Saturday: Phil Psi vs. Selby Leaders at 3 p. m.

The Selby Cubs stepped back into their old role of "leaders of the gang" when they copped three from the Phil Psi. The Psi Psi put a crippled team into the field, their captain and unit being sick, but in spite of his absence the last game should have been theirs, and would have been but for a slip up at the last minute. The work of Guy Edwards was great, and so was that of Bruce and Prosch. As usual the Cubs played all together, with Griffin as their mainstay. The scores were 21-7, 21-11 and 21-20.

Selby Cubs: Griffin, Selby, Groh, Paul, Hack and Freeman.

Phil Psi: Bruce, Pearce, Williams, Tom Williams, McCurdy, Edwards, Sadler.

Play Collegians Next Saturday

Manager Jude Baesman and the Selects will clash with the Morris-Harvey college basketballs on the Morris-Harvey floor Saturday night. The players who will make the trip to Baltimore are Ogier, Forner, Kent, Edwards, Dill, Barber, Kendall and Baesman. Captain Baesman will not get into the game on account of a bad finger.

AFTER GAMES

Deloss Shelton, manager of the Huntington Cardinals, a fast basketball team of that city, would like to book games with some fast basketball teams in this city. The Cardinals do not want to play the Selects, as they are not fast enough, according to Manager Shelton.

RIVER NEWS

The Ohio river continues to recede in the Portsmouth district and Thursday morning a stage of 132 feet was registered here.

The only local boat movement Thursday passed down.

Condition Serious

James Andin, a well known resident of Slab Run, on the West Side, continues very ill. He is suffering from pneumonia and is unable to talk, having lost control of his vocal chords.

John McMahon, a local mail carrier, who was recently operated upon for hernia, is improving rapidly in a local hospital.

Was in Columbus. Seymour Rein is home from a business trip to Columbus in the interest of the Portsmouth Drygoods company.

Chillicothe Floor Team Here Friday

Coach Dan Fries put the P. H. S. varsity team through a stiff practice session Wednesday afternoon, the team not leaving the floor until after five o'clock.

It showed splendid passing work in the contest with New Boston but were away off on basket shooting. The practice this week has been given over to basket shooting and point getting.

Coach Fries now believes he has a scoring machine perfected that will win the majority of games this season.

Tomorrow night the P. H. S. five meets the Chillicothe high school five on the local floor the contest to start at eight o'clock.

Chillicothe started the season early and has a good string of victories to her credit with only one or two defeats.

P. H. S. will find itself against a hard fighting quintet in the Blue and White. The basketball team being made up of stars on the football field. There are several lettered men in the visitors' lineup.

Tigers May Train In Augusta, Ga.

DETROIT, Jan. 5.—The Detroit American baseball club probably will train this year at Augusta, Georgia, according to Frank J. Nevin, president of the organization. Manager Ty Cobb now is in Augusta seeking to arrange housing facilities.

The Rochester and Columbus clubs are to train in the immediate vicinity of Augusta and will provide practice games with the Detroit club if Columbus selects the Georgia city.

Harry Heilman Bad Ball Hitter

Harry Heilman, leading batter of the American League, is a bad-ball hitter.

He goes after them on the inside, on the outside, high, low.

But he mulls enough of them to make him the best hitter in his circuit.

It is estimated Heilman could have drawn at least 100 bases on balls instead of 53 last season if he were not so eager to step into a ball and drive it out.

But Heilman doesn't want 'em out. He hangs away at them.

May Name Hughes

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—"Long Tom" Hughes, for years a major league pitcher, is being considered for the position of team coach of the Chicago White Sox. Manager "Kid" Gleason has indicated to the Sox officials that he needs an assistant to aid in developing recruits and is said to have mentioned that Hughes would be the ideal man for the place.

COLLEGE CHATTER

WHEEN Walter Camp selected Schwab, of Lafayette, Devine, of Iowa, and Muller, of California, on his All-American team. It was the first time a player from these institutions was so honored.

TWO former Penn State stars will have a try-out with the New York Americans this spring. They are Glenn Killinger, the star of Penn State's 1921 football team, and Hinky Haines, who was the big noise in 1920.

GEORGIA TECH is to have a place on the Navy schedule for 1922. The southern eleven, known as the Golden Tornado, for some reason not yet satisfactorily explained, will play at Annapolis, October 23.

UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN has just authorized a summer school for athletic coaches and have made Coach Fielding Yost its director. It will include instruction in all branches of college athletics.

THEARN, who played a star game at quarterback for Yale last season, is out with an injured knee. He sustained a muscle rupture in a recent hockey game and is out to the rest of the season. Yale expects big things from him in football.

THE University of Washington baseball team recently completed a four months' tour in the Orient. Most of the games were played with Japanese college teams. Twenty-three games were won out of 31 played.

THE University of Pittsburgh plans big things in a baseball way. The college team representing that institution on the diamond will make southern an eastern trips next year.

Clerks Install

Retiring President G. W. Handy was the installing officer last night at the regular meeting of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks when officers for 1922 were installed.

Nominations were also made for delegates and alternates to the national convention to be held in Dallas, Texas, the first week in May. The nominations were as follows: Delegates, T. G. O'Keefe and H. M. Sprecher; Alternates, G. W. Handy and Mrs. Mabel Watkins.

The new officers are: President, H. M. Sprecher; Vice President, Frank G. Tracy; Recording Secretary, Albert Held; Financial Secretary, Mayne Foster; Chaplain, Angela Switalski; Chairman of the Executive Committee, J. W. Brannan; Chairman of the Protective Committee, M. C. Alton; Inner Guard, Donald Law.

Speak Up, Boys

Kid Fox, a local colored boxer, is anxious to meet any boy his weight in the city. He fights around the 115 mark and gives promise in developing into a real fighter.

Spieri To Coach

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 5.—Bob Spieri, veteran Ohio State tackle, is the only member of the 1921 Backeye eleven who has rounded out his varsity career, who aspires to coaching.

Spieri was rated as one of the most dependable tackles in Ohio State history. In addition to his football ability he is the heavyweight member of the varsity wrestling team and can also handle his dinks with considerable abandon.

To Accept Challenge. Challenges from Huntington basketball fans, looking for teams not in as fast a class as the Selects, may be answered by Ted Gordley's Nomads five or "Troop 17," both fast teams. The Selcorville Selects and Wheelersburg Selects may also take a try at the up-river team.

These Will Be Real Games

Friday night, in the Wheelersburg high school gym, the W. H. S. boys and girls will clash with the Selcorville boys and girls.

The first game will be between the girls, their game to start at 7:15 sharp. The boys' contest is expected to be a real battle. Recently at Selcorville the W. H. lost by a narrow margin. They expect to turn the tables tomorrow night by sending S. H. S. home with a defeat in its grip. Both teams will use their regular lineups.

Selcorville has been the only team to defeat W. H. S. so far this season. Wheelersburg has won from Ironton, Beaver and New Boston.

McInnis Is Real First Sacker

Stuffy McInnis will give the Indians the best first sacker a Cleveland team has ever had. In its 21 years, in the American League the Cleveland team has had something like 25 first sackers, none of them real stars at the job. The list includes Charley Carr, Claude Rossman, George Stovall, Nap Lajoie, Harry Davis, Hohnhorst, Johnston, Harris, Burns, Guiso and others who have been forgotten. But for all-around ability, hitting, fielding and base running, Stuffy tops them all. With the exception of Hal Chase, McInnis is probably the best fielder ever in the American League.

Giants Will Get Early Start

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Members of the New York Giants will start for their winter training camp in San Antonio, Texas, on February 26. Manager McGraw announced today. The players will reach the Texas city on the night of February 28 and start work of March 1.

Manager McGraw said he had received a telegram from Connie Mack asking him to arrange six games with the Athletics, three in San Antonio and three at Eagle Pass, Texas, where the Athletics will train. McGraw said he had declined the invitation because the Giants' schedule was already complete.

Colonels Invited To Play California

DANVILLE, Ky., Jan. 5.—The University of California athletic officials have invited Centre college to fill their open date on the 1922 football schedule, December 2. On this date the annual home-coaling celebration will be held, and the new million dollar stadium dedicated.

This announcement was made here today by Coach Charles Moran, who said he would ask Centre's athletic board, at its next meeting to consider the invitation. The Colonels returned home late last night from the west.

Pirates Backing Hinchman In Deal

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 5.—There are two outstanding bits of baseball news from Columbus—the passing of Dave Danforth and the developments that indicate the club will not be sold by the present ownership. As to the latter there was a deal out, but unless the owners change their minds it has fallen through. Bill Hinchman made some effort to organize a stock company to purchase the club, and it is understood Thomas E. Wilson put a price on it, but the people Hinchman sought did not seem to embrace, so he dropped his negotiations. Talk is that the Pittsburgh National League club was behind Hinchman in the deal.

YOU MAY TAKE YOUR CHOICE

PRESIDENT HARDING has developed a rare faculty of talking when he ought to preserve a dignified and profound silence.

On divers occasions he has given severe embarrassment to those who consider themselves managers and masters of his administration.

It was only Monday that he had it in extenso and specifically denied that there were any changes in prospects in his cabinet, yet, on Tuesday, it came out in Washington, with seeming authority, that Postmaster Hays had received a most tempting offer to become general counsel for "the movies" at a fancy salary and he said he was giving it that deliberation to which it was entitled, meaning that his retirement from public office was something of a probability.

Hays is the breeziest figure in the cabinet and we do not know but he is its best asset. He is a pastmaster at advertising and he has won public favor by the courage and frankness with which he expresses himself. He lets the people know what he is doing and also what he is thinking, showing no purpose to provide a way to back track, a rather unusual thing in a politician and none will question that Hays hasn't any superior when it comes to being one.

SECOND THOUGHT THE BETTER

GOVERNOR Davis was not at all happy, when impelled by charges, filed against the highway management, he made a plea that these same accusations had been made against other administrations and defied the attorney filing the charges to come forward with proof, if they had it.

Now he has taken wiser counsel and announces he will go thoroughly into the matter and sift it to the bottom.

He owes that much to himself and the state. He drove the legislature into giving him direct and absolute control over all state affairs and his alone is the final responsibility for their safe conduct. He can not avoid his own liability by pleading that the same old maligned occurred to the highway management in other years. True it did, but it was confined to gossip about the Neil House, where road contractors were accustomed to foregather. Nobody paid any attention to their talk because they are largely ex-officio holders, who went into the contracting business with the expectation of their pulling them something easy and when it didn't they were given to blackguarding the officials, who, they thought, might hand it over to them.

The present situation is different. It isn't mere gossip, but open and specific accusation against a department, filed with the attorney general and demanding some action on his part and by him shifted to the governor. It by no means follows that these accusations are founded on actual conditions; they are but put up to him in such a manner that Governor Davis must assume towards them that responsibility that he was so insistent upon having. So he does well in finally concluding to examine into them.

THE GLAD HAND AN ASSET

THE members of the Cornell Glee Club were unanimous that of all places they had visited, during their holiday trip, Portsmouth gave them the most cordial entertainment and the heartiest applause.

This does not refer at all to the size of the audience, but to the treatment accorded them by those citizens they met and the reception given their program.

So that makes it about even. For the club gave an entertainment that was far beyond even the high expectations, founded on the reputation with which it came to the city. Yes, it was with pride that the audience gave it parting salvo of applause because it was conscious that it had witnessed a distinct achievement of American youth in a line that it has had continuously dinged along at it that the American youth is inferior to the foreign.

The immediate point to us, however, that in receiving that stranger cordially and giving him quick merit for his talent, we have built a good name for ourselves. Certainly it will be worth while to have these boys go back to their great institution proclaiming that the brightest spot in their itinerary and the cost to ourselves so little, merely being pleasant and gracious.

A VOICE IN THE WILDERNESS

HUNTINGTON has a preacher that is exceptional to the pulpit, as a matter of fact he is rather exceptional in any capacity.

This sage and philosopher doesn't see the world and everything else hurrying and scurrying to destruction. There is more good in it than bad and there is a sure movement toward rejuvenation far greater than mankind ever witnessed before.

That's the talk, even in the face of apparently increasing deeds of violence. There may be more public crimes right now than ever before, but there are more to commit them. And besides the perpetrators were always criminals. They have simply been stirred to more open and daring deeds because the war marked all humanity that way.

It is encouraging that women who smoke cigarettes are not raising children to follow their example.

Prohibition officers sometimes are poisoned by the evidence. Privilege ever is accompanied by some risk.

CONVERSES WITH FO REIGNER; LOSES ROLL

Chris Benner was the name given by a man who complained to the police that he had been robbed by a man with whom he struck up a conversation with at the N. & W. passenger depot late Wednesday night. Benner claimed that the stranger, who appeared to be a foreigner, extended his roll containing $18 from his pocket and disappeared before he missed the money. The police made a search but were unable to locate the man described by Benner.

NOTICE

Benner, Walter, an infant under twenty-one years of age whose last known place of residence was 2401 Broadway, will take notice that he has been sued for divorce by Ada Watts, an infant under eighteen years of age by Frederick K. K. for next friend by Mrs. K. in the County Court of Adams County, Ohio, and that said cause will be for hearing on after the 12th day of January 1922.

New York-Day-By-Day

BY O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, January 5.—There is a serious agitation in Manhattan for a later theatre hour. Irving Berlin's Music Box, which has become a rendezvous for those who like $10 shows, is not opening until nearly nine o'clock. Nine is the hour that it is believed will be adopted.

People are forced to travel great distances in many cases to get to the theatre district and when they strike the traffic tides motoring becomes a small like process. In fact theatre going has resulted in such hours of mad haste that producers suffer a heavy loss of patronage.

New York welcomes any little leisure in its rushed existence and such a fashion will find a permanent acceptance. The chief objection will be made by the actor. And so highly organized is the actor these days that he has his way. So far, however, he has not recorded a protest against the plan. Old fashions, too, are returning to the theatre this winter. The smartest people rattle to the play in furs. And the promenade, so popular in the days of crinoline and hoopskirts, has been restored.

Young bloods after a leisurely dinner on their own drop in to a musical play for an act and at the entrance indulge in polite and inconsequential chatter with the debutantes. The stroll around the aisles becomes a hand-shaking carnival.

Those who have their flasks—and who has not?—brighten the lagging moments with whatever the flasks may hold. At one theatre the other day I saw two boldly frocked young girls join two adolescents. All lighted cigarettes. An usher stepped up apologetically to explain that there were ladies and gentlemen smoking rooms in the corridor.

"Can't smoke in this theatre?" said one of the girls. "Isn't that priceless?" and she walked to her seat with her cigarette in her hand waiting for some one to start something. The swanky devotees of Ninette are growing resentful at any effort to curb them.

In one of those super-haberdasheries on the avenue—the kind that displays only one scarf or one pair of gloves to a window—I saw a walking stick that was the most magnificent thing I had ever seen. Not as a prospective purchaser, but to satisfy curiosity I stepped in and asked the price. It was marked $185. The clerk explained that one had to be very careful—the handle was very fragile. And putting it back in the window as I was leaving it slipped to the floor. I didn't remain to see what happened. But the cane wasn't in the window the next day. I'll give them $185 for it now anyway.

A Japanese sat in a window on Forty-second street demonstrating a color button. Outside one of those shiny serge barkers was trying to corral a crowd. It was a restless moving crowd that sought something more exciting. Finally in despair the barker shouted hoarsely: "Keep moving along. This is a private exhibition—not for the public," and in ten minutes the sidewalk was blocked.

There is a poetic heat to the name of a floral shop in the tunneled depths of one of the railroad terminals. Odink, Florette and Trinkle the nomenclature. Another rather poetic name is that of a lunch room on Sullivan street. It is run by Wov, Dow and Gow. They should advertise "Good Chow."

John C. Fisher, who made a fortune producing "Floradora," fell lifeless on a Chicago street the other day. A few days before he started west I met him in a theatre lobby. He was recovering from a long illness. "I'll see you when you return," I mentioned at parting. "Yes, I'll see you," he said—and he added, "If I return."

Cheering Someone On

Don't you mind about the triumphs, Don't you worry after fame, Don't you grieve about succeeding, Let the future guard your name. All the best in life's simplest, Love will last when wealth is gone; Just be glad that you are living, And keep cheering someone on.

Let your neighbors have some blossoms, Let your comrades wear the crown, Never mind the little setbacks, Nor the blows that knock you down. You'll be glad when they're forgotten, You'll be glad with youth and dawn, If you just forget your troubles, And keep cheering someone on.

There's a lot of sorrow round you, Lots of loneliness and tears; Lots of heartaches and of worry, Through the shadows of the years, And the world needs more than triumphs, More than all the swords we've drawn.

It is hungering for the fellow Who keeps cheering others on.

No Chance

Returning home from the dentist's, where he had gone to have a loose tooth drawn, little Raymond reported as follows: "The doctor told me 'fore he began that if I cried or screamed it would cost me a dollar, but if I was a good boy it would only be fifty cents.'"

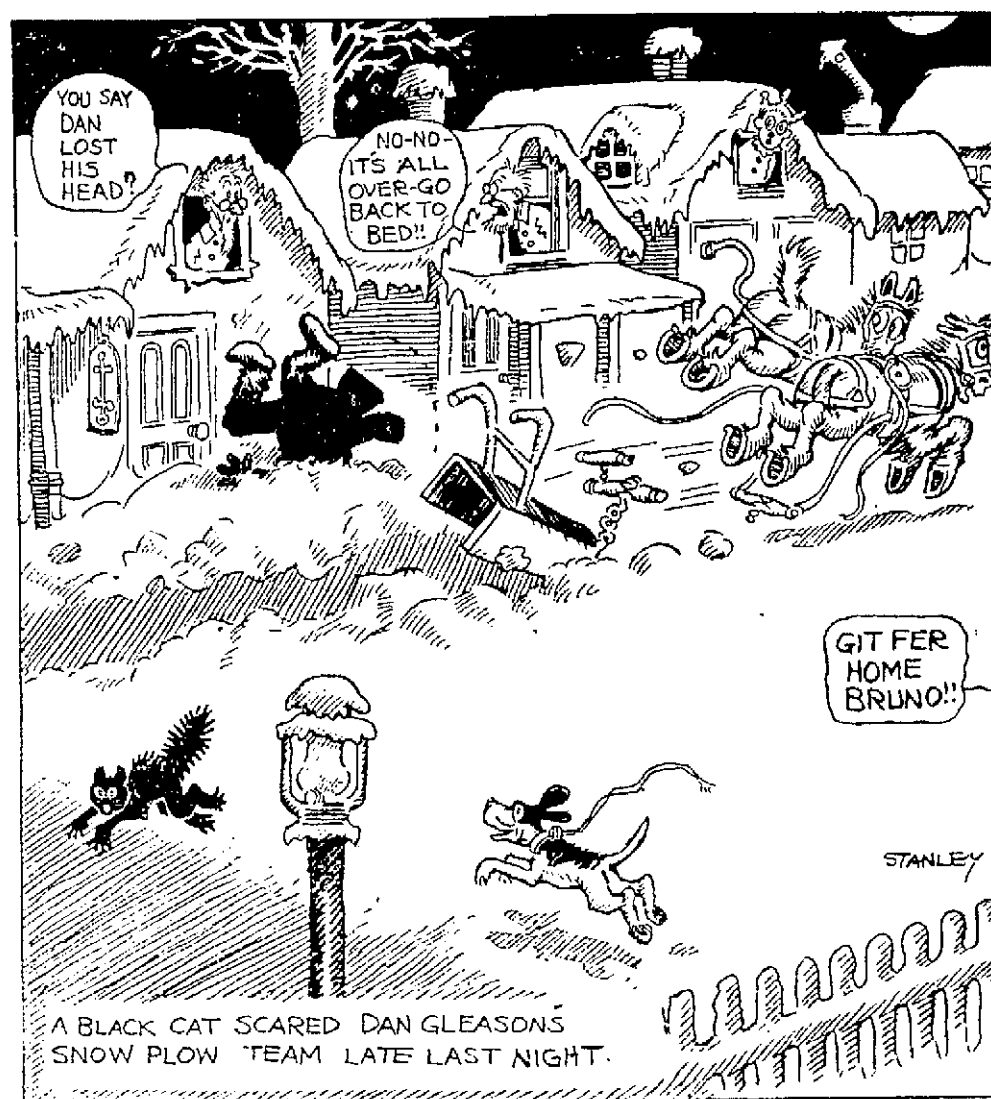

"Did you scream?" his mother asked. "How could I," answered Raymond. "You only gave me fifty cents."—Continued.

Foreign Exchange

The leader was giving a test on the value of foreign money in America. When it was little Harry's turn, she asked: "Harry, how much is a guinea worth in this country?" Harry smiled and answered: "A dollar and a half a day."

Break In Water Main; Is Being Repaired Without The Water Supply Being Cut Off

An elbow joint in the water main between the underground crossing and the pumping station of the water-works plant pulled apart at 5:30 this morning and for a while it looked like the city would be without its normal supply of water for possibly 10 or 12 hours.

However, owing to the fact that there is eight feet of water in the reservoir this was not taken and the supply has been kept up to a normal basis.

Repairs to the elbow will be completed late this afternoon and Service Director Wm. Gergens says the water will not have to be shut off. The repairs are being made by Engineer George P. Shute and his force of assistants.

The break occurred where one took place four years ago, the elbow joint having been spliced with heavy rods and one of these pulled apart this morning.

James M. Distel Buys Kendall Block

Through a deal closed Thursday, James M. Distel of the Distel Furniture company purchased the two-story business block his firm has been occupying at Seventh and Chillicothe streets. It was purchased from the River City Realty company of which George J. Schmidt of Gallia street is president. "I had a chance to buy the building individually as an investment, and believe I have made a good one," Mr. Distel said today. The building was formerly known as the Kendall block. His firm has just closed a very satisfactory year.

Thos. Scott Dies

RAIDEN, Jan. 5.—Thomas Scott, aged 67, of Wellston, O., and a brother of L. A. Scott of Raiden, died suddenly at his home Wednesday.

L. A. Scott and daughter, Mrs. Lowery Redman, will attend the funeral Friday at Wellston.

Painful Injury

MANCHESTER, Jan. 5.—Late yesterday Wilbur Boone, while cutting wood with gasoline power pulled the circular saw between the fingers of the right hand. Physicians amputated the thumb, fourth finger and a part of the palm. Unless the healing is satisfactory the entire hand will be amputated.

A Knight of the Bath

"Speaking of bathing in famous springs," said the tramp in the tourist, "I bathed in the spring of '82."

Marie—"That's a beautiful gown you have on."
Molly—"Yes, I got it for my coming-of-age party, and, do you know, that lace is fifty years old!"
Marie—"Is that so? Did you make it yourself?"

IF YOU ARE WELL BRED

You will, when calling on several ladies, not mother and daughters, leave a card for each. You will announce a change of residence to your acquaintances with your new address and reception day. You will use a note to express thanks for a gift, not a calling card.

Auto Plants To Resume

DETROIT, MICH., January 5.—(By the Associated Press)—Practically every automobile plant in Detroit will be in operation the first of next week, following a shut-down of from ten days to two weeks for the annual inventory. The Ford Motor Co. will resume operations in all departments Monday, according to official announcement today. A number of automobile plants reopened this week and others expected to resume within a few days.

To relieve unemployment the Ford company today announced a plan whereby each of the 40,000 men employed by the concern may work four fifths of the time. A rotation system of employment will be used.

Brower Is Selected

COLUMBUS, O., January 5.—(By the Associated Press)—Daniel C. Brower, county commissioner for Montgomery county, today was selected by the Republican state central committee as a member of that committee from the third congressional district to succeed Dr. L. C. Weimer, who resigned to become postmaster at Dayton.

The committee decided to open state headquarters in Columbus in the near future for the gubernatorial and senatorial campaign this year and named the following personnel:

Tolbert Ataulair, of Chillicothe; Charles S. Hatfield, of Bowling Green, and D. Q. Morrow, of Hillsboro.

No mention of a proposal for a preliminary convention of the Republican party, as suggested by Walter Brown, of Toledo, was made at today's meeting, members said.

The committee was informed that the $115,000 debt remaining at the close of the last campaign had been wiped out.

Section Men To Hold Meet

COLUMBUS, O., January 5.—(By the Associated Press)—All maintenance way employees of railroads passing through Columbus, will meet here Sunday to consider what action to take, if any, regarding proposed wage cuts for this class of rail employees. Speakers will include E. F. Grable, Detroit, president of the national organization of maintenance of way employees, and J. C. Smick, vice president.
